PRESIDENT'S NOTES

Dear Members:

We had a fantastic Happy Hour event late last month, sponsored by Moran Towing and I hope you were able to make it. Despite the rain, we had a great turnout of over 30 people, so thanks to everyone who made the trek, especially from Young Shipping Professionals of New York (YSPNY), who helped promote the event in conjunction with CMA. We really look forward to welcoming their members into our network. My special thanks go to Tamara Hoffman and CMA VP Brendan Collins of Moran Towing, and CMA Social Chair, Phil Hughes, for coordinating a fun night out at Tiernan's!

Looking ahead to CMA Shipping on March 10-12, our community and the Board of the CMA has spent considerable time discussing our cherished annual Commodore Award. We continue to mourn the loss of Jim Lawrence and have heard from many of you that Jim should be named as the next Commodore. This idea, while certainly coming from the highest places of love and remembrance, has been a difficult one to grapple with, which I will explain:

- Jim had three key criteria for the recipient: relevance to our industry today and an impact on CMA, should be a shipowner, and be living (not in memoriam).
- At the 2024 Gala Dinner, CMA President Sandi Ennor surprised Jim by recognizing him as the Outstanding Community Maritime Person of the Year. In retrospect, we are incredibly lucky to have had the chance to bring Jim onstage and shower him with the adulation that he deserved so much (those who were present will recall he was brought to tears). It was the last CMA Shipping that Jim was able to attend.
- Jim created the Commodore award; so it would be most fitting to remember him EVERY year, to celebrate his life, honor his legacy, talk about his impact on all of us, and share his bright spirit with generations to come.

Therefore, we are very pleased to announce that in perpetuity, it will be known as the Jim Lawrence Commodore Award.

Wishing you a wonderful season filled with warmth, good food, and even better company!

Best Wishes,
John Lindquist, CMA President

CMA HOUSTON HAPPY HOUR THANKS!

Thank you to all the CMA Members, either based in Houston or traveling there, that attended our Houston Happy Hour(s) at Kirby Ice House on November 5.

A huge thank you Stabilis Solutions, the company of our CMA president, John Lindquist, for sponsoring the night. A good time was had by all!

Look for more of these pop-up, informal gatherings every few months in both Stamford and Houston, as they are proving to be a big hit!

CMA OCTOBER LUNCH THANK YOU!

Thank you to 50 people that came out for our October lunch to listen to James Doyle, Head of Corporate Development & IR of Scorpio Tankers Inc. talking about Scorpio, the industry and a spirited and skillfully moderated q&a with our CMA Communications Chair James Lightbourn and the audience.

All who attended appreciated James' excellent and interesting presentation, given in an engaging way and we thank him for taking the time to be with us, and also to answer questions after the presentation.

Thanks to James Lightbourn for pulling this all together!

November 2025

November is a time of “thanks” and “giving”.

We thank the many individuals, foundations and companies who have supported the Foundation so far this year, as well as those who have served on our Board, both of which are critical to furthering our mission of promoting and supporting maritime-related education.

With the support of our donors, the CMA Education Foundation (CMA EF) was able to distribute $50,000 in student scholarships, provide $12,900 in internship stipends, $5,000 in cash awards for the Business of Shipping research competition, and provide an interactive career day at a local high school with numerous maritime professionals. Our donors are making a big impact.

“At the end it’s not about what you have or even what you’ve accomplished. It’s about who you’ve lifted up, who you’ve made better. It’s about what you’ve given back.” Denzel Washington

Jim Lawrence was one of those people who lifted up others and believed in giving back. Many of us were better for having known him. The Foundation has established a scholarship in his name to be awarded annually at the CMA Shipping Conference. We are pleased to acknowledge the following who have contributed to this memorial scholarship fund. If Jim made a difference in your career, and you would like to do the same for others, or are feeling inspired by his legacy, we welcome donations to this scholarship fund as well.

We still need and greatly appreciate your financial support to allow us to continue to further our mission. Please consider the CMA EF on Giving Tuesday and in your planned year-end giving. Tax-deductible donations can be made at www.cma-edu.org, via check to our new mailing address below, electronic ACH transfer, when renewing your CMA membership or at the CMA Christmas Party (via cash, check or credit card) on December 9th at the Sign of the Whale.

Each donation provides the Foundation with energy to support the mission to promote and support maritime-related education and maritime experiential learning for future generations.

P.S. Next month look for the annual Santa’s Nice List recognizing all our donors. It’s a good list to be on and it’s not too late...

Dear Friend,

We are writing to invite you to join us in supporting the Jim Lawrence Memorial Scholarship Fund, a cause dear to our hearts and important to our next generation. This scholarship was established to honor the legacy and memory of Jim Lawrence, whose lifelong commitment to education, mentorship, and building the maritime community left an indelible mark on all who knew him.

Jim was a founding father of the CMA, the annual CMA Shipping Conference and established the CMA Commodore Award. He strongly believed in and supported the educational mission of the CMA and the CMA EF, serving as a Director on the CMA EF Board until his passing. A maritime entrepreneur and business owner, he supported many interns offering them the opportunity to gain hands on work experience and essential learning that takes place outside the classroom. Throughout his life, he encouraged young and old alike to pursue their dreams and reach their full potential. The Jim Lawrence Memorial Scholarship Fund continues his legacy by providing financial assistance to deserving students who embody the qualities we will miss most about Jim. The scholarship will be awarded annually at the CMA Shipping Conference. Your contribution directly helps students afford tuition, books, and other essential expenses.

We humbly ask for your support in the form of a tax-deductible donation. No amount is too small—every gift brings us closer to empowering the next generation of leaders and community builders. With your help, we can ensure that Jim’s legacy continues to inspire and enable students for years to come. To make a donation, please visit our website at www.cma-edu.org or send your gift to:

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Connecticut Maritime Association (CMA) and the CMA Education Foundation are seeking entries from students attending American maritime colleges and universities with programs and/or courses that deal with shipping, international trade and marine transportation.

The Connecticut Maritime Association, Inc., is a not-for-profit organization established in 1984 and has an educational mission. It is an association of individuals representing every aspect of shipping and international trade, both ship and cargo interests.

CMA's annual trade show and conference, March 10 to 12, 2026, will feature Student Research Presentations on the Business of Shipping throughout the conference. To qualify, a student must be an individual working towards a bachelor's or master's degree at a US university.

All papers are to be original manuscripts, and the topics should have practical application to industry problems, issues, or policies. Papers will be reviewed by teams from academia and industry. Three papers will be selected and awarded certificates, with a first place award of $2,500, second place award of $1,500, and third place award of $1,000. The awards are courtesy of d'Amico Shipping Group. Papers, presentations or portions of the submissions may be published in industry publications and/or on the CMA Education Foundation website or annual report.

All topics of the "Business of Shipping" are acceptable. Possible topics that students may wish to explore might include:

- Financial pressures and survival among owners of ships – tankers, bulk carriers, containerships
- The supply chain impact on the maritime industry
- Imbalance between the supply of and the demand for ships and their implications
- Global warming – the effect on the output of agricultural goods and demand for bulk carriers
- Global maritime policies such as those covering safety, environmental emissions, invasive species and ballast water issues, market competition, etc.
- Regulation, enforcement and governance in the maritime field
- Energy – oil, gas, coal, wind, solar – what are its effects on the shipping industry?
- Vessel operating issues – for example, crew recruiting, retention and education
- Ship waste disposal, environmental ship scrapping, population growth and migration and their impact on demand for resources
- Piracy and/or terrorism and their impact on shipping
- The environment – regulations and technological solutions
- Cyber security and data protection for vessel and shore-side offices
- AI in shipping: where, when, how, why?
- Port development and operations
- Others, such as the Maritime Labor Convention, emission issues and technological solutions

Submit your paper (maximum of 15 pages) by January 12, 2026. Submissions are to be e-mailed only. Feel free to contact Shmuel Yahalom if you have any questions.

2025 MARINE ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION AWARD RECIPIENTS

Congratulations to Carleen Lyden Walker and the NAMEPA team for a very successful NAMEPA's Annual Conference & Awards Dinner on October 30, 2025, hosted at SUNY Maritime College in the Bronx, NY. The event brought together maritime executives, industry stakeholders, educators, and students to collaborate on the industry's most pressing sustainability challenges.

I was honored to attend the dinner where 11 worthy honorees were awarded 2025 Marine Environment Protection Awards. Congratulations to all of the recipients.

The 11th award that night was given to my amazing company leader, who we lost too soon in June, Jim Lawrence.

- Posthumous Award: Jim Lawrence, MTI Network

Recognized for his lasting legacy in maritime communications and advocacy, ensuring the industry's environmental voice was heard worldwide.

Carleen and I introduced the award to a silent room of respectful attendees and shared some of our personal stories on how we met Jim and our history with him. A warm standing ovation ensued as we closed our remarks, which showed the incredible respect Jim held in the industry and his enduring legacy.

His lovely daughter Kate, then accepted the award for the Lawrence family with some heartfelt words of thanks.

Thank you Carleen, Joe, Molly and all of NAMEPA for such a lovely remembrance of Jim and what he meant to all of us.

EIGHT BELLS – DR. HELMUT SOHMEN

We were sad to read of the passing of our CMA Commodore of 1996, Dr. Helmut Sohmen.

Darren Shelton of Moran Shipping Agencies in Houston wrote a towering tribute to Dr. Sohmen on LinkedIn and he gave us permission to share it with you – thank you Darren!

The Outsider Lawyer Who Outsmarted Shipping's Insiders

An Austrian bank lawyer who had never worked at sea married into Hong Kong's most powerful maritime family, persuaded them to sell 140 ships during a collapse, and rebuilt the company into a 12,000-person global enterprise.

Helmut Sohmen, this attorney who saved a shipping dynasty, passed away on October 26 at 85.

Born in Linz in 1939, Sohmen studied law at the Universität Wien | University of Vienna, then continued his studies through a Fulbright scholarship at the University of Connecticut and at Southern Methodist University in Texas.

He began his career as a legal adviser for the Royal Bank of Canada (RBC) in Montreal. During that time, he met Anna Pui Hing Pao, daughter of shipping magnate Sir Y.K. Pao. They married in 1967.

Three years later, Pao invited his son-in-law to join World-Wide Shipping in Hong Kong. Sohmen left banking for an industry he barely knew. The company moved him through its offices in Bermuda and London, allowing him to learn every corner of the business before he settled permanently in Hong Kong in 1981.

By then, the late-1970s oil crisis had devastated global shipping. Freight rates plunged, and fleets around the world went under. World-Wide was drowning in debt, with 204 ships totaling more than 20 million DWT. Sohmen urged Pao to sell while ships still held value.

- Over five years, they sold 140 vessels and stabilized the company.
- Competitors who waited for recovery lost everything.

Pao retired in 1986; by 1989, ownership had passed to Sohmen's wife.

Through the 1990s downturn, Sohmen rebuilt carefully. In 1999, World-Wide acquired N&T Argonaut, adding two dozen ships. Four years later came his defining move: the purchase of Norway's Bergesen d.y., the world's largest gas-carrier operator.

The merger created BW Group, a global leader in LNG, LPG, crude oil, chemical tankers, and floating production units. By 2010, BW managed 140 vessels and employed more than 4,500 people.

Sohmen also served on HSBC's board from 1990 to 2007, acted as president of BIMCO, chaired ITOPF, and represented Hong Kong's business community in the Legislative Council. In 2014, after 44 years with the company, he turned BW's leadership over to his son, Andreas Sohmen-Pao.

As reported in Splash Maritime and Offshore News (splash247.com), Sohmen once said, “Owners should not make too many assumptions or believe in linear projections based on historic precedent.”

It was advice drawn from experience:

- sell when others hesitate,
- expand when others retreat.

What can we learn from the good man’s life?

- Timing is usually the key to scaling.
- Fresh eyes may see what blinds tradition.
- Legal minds can read markets as well as contracts.

Helmut Sohmen, 1939–2025. The lawyer who learned shipping from scratch and built one of its strongest modern empires.

May his departed soul rest in peace

AVAILABLE POSITION

Position A – ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE, MARITIME SECTOR, NORTHEAST.

POSITION OVERVIEW:

Great White Fleet is looking for a motivated and strategic Ocean Freight Account Executive to grow our presence across the Northeast United States. In this role, you'll take the helm of our regional commercial efforts — developing customer relationships, uncovering new business opportunities, and helping shape the future of ocean transportation for a trusted name in the maritime industry.

You'll work closely with our Director and cross-functional teams to execute our Liner sales strategy, expanding market share, revenue, and cargo volume within your territory. This is a high-impact, people-focused role where your ideas and energy will directly influence results.

The ideal candidate is an entrepreneurial self-starter who thrives on building connections, solving challenges, and driving results. A background in container shipping or logistics sales is preferred, along with strong communication skills, business savvy, and a passion for collaboration.

This is a remote position, ideally based in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, or Pennsylvania, with flexibility for other Northeast locations

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Discover and grow new opportunities by combining market insights, networking, and strategic planning to expand Great White Fleet's presence and impact in the region.
- Build lasting relationships with prospective and existing customers — understanding their goals, anticipating their needs, and developing solutions that strengthen long-term partnerships.
- Drive results by meeting and exceeding sales targets while contributing to the company's broader mission of delivering reliable, sustainable ocean freight solutions.
- Collaborate across teams to ensure an exceptional customer experience and support key accounts with proactive problem-solving.
- Analyze and share insights through regular market performance reports that highlight trends, opportunities, and lessons learned.
- Stay ahead of the curve by continuously learning about market dynamics, customer challenges, and innovations shaping the maritime industry.

JOB REQUIREMENTS:

- Education & experience: Bachelor's degree in Business, Marketing, Finance, Supply Chain, or a related field — or equivalent experience that demonstrates strong business and communication skills.
- Industry knowledge: 5+ years of experience in the maritime, logistics, or container shipping industry (experience in ocean or intermodal transportation a major plus) preferred.

- Analytical mindset: Strong problem-solving and data-driven decision-making skills — you know how to turn insights into action.
- People & communication skills: Excellent communicator, negotiator, and relationship-builder — someone who connects easily with customers and colleagues.
- Self-starter spirit: Independent, organized, and adaptable, with the curiosity to learn and the drive to make an impact.
- Flexibility: Willingness to travel up to 25% to meet customers, attend industry events, and strengthen relationships in person

PHYSICAL ENVIRONMENT:

- This is a remote role with a supportive, collaborative culture.
- Expect regular interaction with teammates and customers through digital collaboration tools and occasional travel for meetings or conferences.
- Extended periods of computer-based work are typical, with standard office equipment used daily.
- Reasonable accommodations are available to support an inclusive and healthy work environment.

AVAILABLE TALENT

Candidate 1 – CHARTERING MANAGER

I'm a Chartering Manager looking to relocate to the tri-state area (NY-NJ-CT) for a challenging role preferably in the dry bulk industry. Over the last two decades I have gained substantial experience both as an Owner/Operator and as an industrial charterer. I also have a background in breakbulk, refrigerated and containerized cargoes. In addition to Chartering I have spent some years working in vessel Operations. I am sure that I can add value to any trading/owner/operator team on several levels including risk management. I have extensive contacts throughout the industry with relationships developed and maintained over the years. I can be available to join a new company on relatively short notice. I am available for further discussion at your convenience. You can contact me at: tbnpro3@gmail.com

(C01-25)

Candidate 2 – COPYWRITING SERVICES

As a maritime professional, your business takes place in the world's harshest, most treacherous environment. And today's volatile shipping and trading markets are just as unpredictable! In the raging tumult of daily commerce, you continually plot your course to success – to generate leads, to win new customers and to keep your current clients serviced and satisfied.

I can help you deliver your message with written print and digital copy that converts your prospects to buyers and keeps you on your customers' radar, generating follow-on business. Build leads with ads, white papers, and case studies. Draw traffic to your website and social channels. Grow sales and retain customers with email campaigns, blog posts and newsletters.

If you're looking to build your marine business – chartering, ship management, naval architecture, engineering, or bunkers, lubes, and supplies – or you need to prepare highly refined technical reports or documents, drop me a line. Don Gale at Marinespeak Copywriting, telephone +1 914 471 0376 or email me at dvgale@optonline.net. And let's successfully navigate these rough waters together.

Candidate 3 – SEEKING SHORESIDE EMPLOYMENT

My name is Brendan Pezzulo, and I am currently sailing as a Deck Officer aboard container vessels and ro-ro vessels. In addition to this, I have my 2nd Mate License. Recently, I graduated in May 2025 with a Master's Degree in Shipping and Logistics from SUNY Maritime.

After several years at sea and completing my graduate studies, I'm now looking to transition into the shoreside side of the maritime industry. I'm particularly interested in roles that allow me to apply my operational experience and academic background to areas like chartering, vessel operations, or logistics.

Please contact me for my complete resume. Thank you.
